I moved to Winsley in 1998 when I was 9 years old. I lived at [REDACTED] Bradford Road Winsley BA15 2[REDACTED]. For 9 years until I left home I often walked to Northfields playing field to play football or find friends. I was allowed to go there alone because I did not have to cross any major roads. It was part of village life for our age group of children and was an amenity that I have fond memories of and I feel thankful for. For children who don't live in a town it was important to have somewhere outside the home to go to. It was great playing football in a casual way and for those years I did not watch television after school. It was a social hub. I can name many people who went there during those years.
